RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR-AND NOW.

When one looks back upon the Russo-Japanese War of ten years ago some interesting facts are recalled, the more in eresting, perhaps, when one compares the methods employed by the combatants in Manchuris with those of the modern Huns in Belgium and France, writes " W.R." in the " Scotsman."

On every side we are reminded of the humanitarianism of the Japanese, Nowhere do we read a single suggestion, even from the Russians, of unfair Japanese ractics. During the siege of Port Ar hur, for instance, the Japanese, with rare humanity, directed their fire on the ducks, ships, and workshops, wasting little ammunition on public buildings. Unly one shell fell near the church. Practically no damage was done to any of the large huildings; but serious results followed the high angle fire di-ected upon the warships in the harbour.

Not a single instance of misuse of the white flag or foul fighting took placeduring the fierce contests in Manchuria and round Post Arthur. Both sides played the game. But the "cultured" Germans are not ashamed to advance upon a British trench, hold up their hands in token of surrender, and suthlessly proceed to shoot down our chivalrous Tommies.

When the Russians and Japanese faced one another on the opposite banks of the Shaho river the wells that had been yield. ing fresh water supplies to both armies gave out. The combatants quickly came to an honourable understanding, during the cessation of hostilities, whereby unarmed detachments were to be permitted to fetch drinking water from the Shaho. Not once were these men ever fired upon.

Russians and Japanese outposts afternately used a care for a shelter, and excharged courtesies with one another. If the Japanese did not tidy the interior after their departure, the Russians left a written complaint. In like manner the Japanese Chinese junks made frequent attempts to run the blockade to and from Port Arthur. Some succeeded, but many were intercepted by the vicilant enemy. All captured letters from the Port Arthur garrison were forwarded to St. Petersburg by the chivalrous Japanese. Also, we know that General Nozi called upon General Stoessel to surrender Port Arthur on humanitarian grounds. Finally, when the Muscovites did finally surrender, and were leaving Port Arthur, their officers were in wauch a hurry to get into the waiting trains that women and children were being left on the platform. The Japanese would have none of that sort of behaviour, so they promptly bundled the Russiaus out of the carriages and trucks, and made room for the women and their families. The foregoing are a few of the examples that could be cited. They must suffice to act as contrasts to the methods employed by the soldiers of the Kaiser.

Turning now to the battles fought in Manchuria. Over and over again the intrepid little Japa literally threw away their lives by hurling masses against positions that seemed impregnable. But night attacks invariably followed each day's fighting. In fact, the Japa neither spared themselves, nor did they give their opponents a moment's rest.

Strategic retirements were forced upon the Russians in Manchuria just as they have been upon Allies and Germans in Belgium, and France. But even the victorious Japanese were not able, at the outset of their war, to reap many fruits in the shape of prisoners and guns.

In nearly every big battle fought in Manchulia the Japanese turned the tide in their favour by effecting flanking move-

In this connection it is interesting to quote the letter by Sir Claude MacDonald in which the Germans have stigmatised the Japanese as "heathens." He says :-- It was my privilege to be British Representative at the Court of Tokio from the commencement of the negotiations which proceded the war between Japan and Russis until peace was signed. Incidentally also, it was my great privilege to be the on or belors the 20th November."

T. F. HOL making the Alliance alluded to by the German theologians. May I therefore venture to state as follows:-The whole -world knows with what splendid valour our Allies fought, but it is not known as generally as I think it ought to be how straightforward and honest and dignified and how loyal to us was the conduct of these negotiations. It is not generally known how appreciative of the stubborn valour of their opp neuts, how courteous and chipatient in their sufferings, were the beathen" Japanese. It is not known, perhaps, as I kno it, that the fullest information regarding wounded Russians in the hospitals of Japan for transmission to their friends was immediately obtainable. The nature and gravity of the wounds, and, in some case, even the temperature of patients were telegraphed. The present Viceroy of India, then Ambander at St. Petersburg, can best me out in this. I venture, therefore, to think that some Christian nations, not forgetting Germany, have much to learn of the Christian virtues of chivelry, courtery, and honesty from heathen Japan.

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out-

Science has raught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhea by removing the irritating cause. Be prepared for emergencies by anpays keeping a bottle in the house.

DESTIE OF FORMER CHINESE CONSUL-Christopher Thomas Gardner, C.M.G., F.R.(I.S. M.R. A.S., Woodside House, Aberdeen, 73. The fourth son of Dre John Gardner, in 1881 he entered the China Consular Service as a student interpretor, and was afterwards stationed at Newchwang. Chin Kiang Canton, and Shang-hai, He was Consul at Chefco, Ichang, and Hankow. For his work there he was thanked by the British Government and created a. C.M.G. For a time he was acting Consul-General at Secul, Korea: blr: Gardner made a journey through Manchuria into parts where no European had been, and read an account of his travels before the members of the Royal Geographical Society. He wrote "Simple Truths," a trentise on political economy, which was translated into Chinese, and is largely used in the Chinese Colleges. His tine collection of Chinese coi s is now in the British Musoum. Mr. Garchier relired in 1:00. He re ided at Chaltenham for ten years, and went to therefore four years. ago. He had wished all the principal picture galleries in Europe, and was engaged on several works on art subjects when he was struck down by illness fifteen months ago Mirs. Gardner died in 1890, and to he survived by a doughter, the wife of Captain Laird, R.N., Abuideen. AN OLD MASSNIC BECORD.

In the course of alterations a pon the old Crosshouse at Campile Ulen, for long to the possession of the Buchanan family, there has been unearthed the treasurer's book of Lennux Kilwinning Lodge of Masons. Many of the entries have been effaced by the chemical effects of the lime in the wall of the house, but others can onally be deciphered, and are chaquaint chameter. Members were restricted to an age limit of 18 to 45, except in cases of persons "who are in such a state in this world as not to be burdensome to the Lodge." St. John's Day was to be loyally observed, every mem- fold-time ceremonial of the gun salute, the ber being expected to take part in driving of the ball by the new office-bearer, the procession, "gentuely dressed, each the caddies stampede, and the gay crowd clothed with a white aprop and stockings of the same colour." The accounts tell of numerous disbursements to "a weak, brother," while the officer for "detaining prisoners" is paid 5s. The censorship of letters of soldiers at the front is apparently even more drastic that that of "correspondents" namatives. The wife of Scottish officer recently received an envelope addressed by her husband; inside someone had written, "Your husband is well, but he is far too communicative.".

The Berliners were just as confident when I lift of the future success of Germany as they were at the outset. That his wounds received in action. Captain is the attitude of the commercial and professional classes and of the man in the street. There are signs, however, that the prolongation of the war will rnean a practical collapse of German shopkeeping. Many of the smaller shops in Derlin are already closed, but the large shope, such as Wertheim's, the Kaulhaus des Westens, and Tietz are open part of the day, with half staffs on half-pay. There is so little work in" the shops for the assistants that they are spending their time knitting comforts for the troops at the front.

Among the upper class and the higher military authorities there seems to be hitch somewhere. At the outset it was supposed that the war would last, at the most, three or four months. THE NEW ASPECT OF THE WAR. "

Are the German's apprehensive of the future. Not now, You must remember that the average German, is getting his impressions from the official press, and is virtually without any other source of information. Until very recently the compaign has been made to appear a steady erescendo of victories, and in the main these reports have been taken on their face value. It is only within the past two weeks that the arrest of the German advance has awakened doubts in German minds. At first we heard of nothing but " a short war. BRITAIN'S FINANCIAL PROPOSALS.

Income Tax To Be Doubled.

£535,000,000 Required.

Elondon, Nov. 17. The Rt. Hon. D. Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in his financial statement said that he was making proposals not merely to most increased expenditure but also the deficiency in the revenue. The total sum for which provision would require to be made would be £535,000,000 for ordinary and war expenditure.

The additional money which had to be found was £339,571,000.

A full year of war would cost at least £450,000,000.

He proposed that the income-tax should be doubled but that this year it would only be collected in respect of one-third of the income.

Extra Duly On Tea And Bear.

Mr. Lloyd George announced that there would be an extra duty of threepence on tea and a halfpenny on the half-pint of beer.

It was necessary to borrow £230,321,000 to carry us to the end of the present financial year, and it was also desirable to have some surplus. He therefore proposed to ruise a loan of 350 millions sterling, at 31 per cent, issued at the price of 05, and redeemable at par on March 31, 1828. One hundred millions of this loan had already been offered to the Government.

RUSSIANS DRIVING THE GERMANS BEFORE THEM

AUSTRALIAN NAVY'S LOSS. Submarine A E 1.

Rear Admiral Sir George Patey reports the loss of Submarine A E 1 with 35 officers and men. She was last seen on the afternoon of September 14th returning from patrol work. No wreckage was seen. and it is supposed that the disaster was the result of an accident .- "The Navy."

hastening to achieve some positive success before this trouble comes. - When I was studying the German army my attention was attracted, of course, to the so-called 'winter manceuvres,' which in reality are only tactical exercises, lasting not more than one two days. Always after such manceuvres the military hospitals: were overflowing with sick men, and German officers: complained of the failly custom of the authorities in ordering DAUGUYTES. BURSIANS LIKING FOR WINTER. "Now let us consider Russia. The Russian people like the winter very much. The whole Russian population always looks for-ward to the approach of winter, and the Paid-up Capital£2,437,500 | more intense the frest becomes the happier "Russian soldiers also like the winter:

"Let us remember the passing of the army of General Gurke through the Balkana 2,587,158 in 1877 and 1878 during the Russo-Turkish war, and the calebrated winter battles on the Schipka Pass. The Russian soldier can 282,692 sleep in the snow with the same comfort as 430,193 in his bed in barracks, and he is specially trained, as Bussian asppers are, to manceuvre and work in it. "In Russia there is a special period of winter manceuvres which coincide with the hardest weather of the reason, between January and the first half of February: These manceuvres last three weeks or a month, and are ordered for the whole of | winds. Russia. Especially well trained in this respect are the troops of the Warsaw military district, which are now in contact with the Germans in Mast Pressis, and pever after such manosuvres have the Russian soldiers complained of them. On the contrasy, they always preferred them to the animmer grand manouvres, and came back stronger and without the alightest signs of fatigue.

"BANQUETTING THE ENEMY!

A popular outcry has been raised at line Penang against the excessive allowance made for food for the prisoners of war at that port. The allowance per head is $3.75 per day, which works out at $116.20 l per man per month, while the charge for meesing in the principal hotel of that port is $45 per month. The Straits dollar it may be added, is the equivalent of 2, 4d. If Germany at the and of the war has to pay the bill including interest on the out-British taxpayer such extravagance is unperdonable. It would be interesting to know how the allowance for prisoners in Hongkong compares with the Penang rate.

CLIMPSES OF THE WAR.

Conditions in England.

Some interesting glimpses of the condi-tion of things obtaining in the British Isles in consequence of the war are afforded. in private letters received here (says a Kobe-The tennage of the merchant [paper to hand). Use gentlemen: writing

> "I dare say away in Japan it is hard to realize what is going on here in the old country. Even what is happening in this small Hertfordshire town is typhical of what is going, on all over the country. We have 2,500 men. of Kitchener's new army billeted here in Berkhamsted on private householders. I believe that the school boarding houses. are nearly the only exceptions. These raw chaps are from Northumberland and N. Yorkshire. The streets are full of them, and they are the stuff that will give the enemy to think. They parade on the Common, sometimes in the High street Our school corps lands them their rifles every morning and afternoon, and their roughness is being knocked off them. They have a grievance—so an officer told me-and that is that by the time that Kitchaner wants to send them to the front the war will becver. Why-they want to know -all this drilling nonsense, why not give each min a rifle and send them out to France on bloc! This billetting is a God send to the poorer folk, for the Government pays 3/42 a day for each man, and that is uncommon good pay. In every street you will see the houses chalted K3/4, which means Kitchener's 4th Army (accommodation for 3); some take as many as 6 or 7. Each host takes a pride and an interest in his men. If hy any mischance one of them should spend the night in the guardroom, he takes it as a reflection on himself. There has been very little drinking really, but every public home and club is closed at 0.30. We have special
